HUNDREDS KILLED IN TORNADO

Fargo, N. D., June 23.—Fergus Falls, Minn., lies in ruins today and soldiers are searching the debris for the bodies of hundreds of persons reported to have been killed by the tornado which swept through the town late yesterday. Reports received here early today placed the death list at from 300 to 400. Earlier estimates gave the number of dead as about 200.

Relief trains are on their way to Fergus Falls to aid in the work of caring for the dead and injured and to give assistance to townsfolk whose homes have been demolished. Governor Burnquist, of Minnesota, is in personal charge of the relief work and is expected to reach Fergus Falls today. Members of the sanitary corps, fourth regiment, Minnesota national guard, and a number of doctors, nurses and railway officials are giving aid to the stricken town.

The cyclone wiped out the business section of the city, cutting a path several blocks wide through the center. Most of the larger business buildings were destroyed and many residences were blown down.

Among the buildings destroyed was the Grand hotel in which 75 persons are said to have perished when the building collapsed. The Great Northern railway depot is also reported to have been blown down with considerable loss of life.

Passengers aboard Great Northern train No. 1, the Oriental Limited westbound from Chicago to Seattle, escaped death almost by a miracle when the train was blown from the track 20 miles west of Fergus Falls. Only one person aboard was injured, a girl suffering a sprained ankle. The passengers were taken to Moorhead, Minn., where other trains picked them up. More than 200 passengers were on the train.

Telegraph and telephone wires throughout the entire region swept by the cyclone, are down and communication with the stricken district is interrupted.

BRITISH ADMIRALTY CHARGED WITH NEGLECT IN ALLOWING SINKING OF GERMAN FLEET OFF SCAPA FLOW

KIRK WALL, June 23.—Germany's interned battle fleet was sunk as a result of orders from Berlin, according to British naval officers here who have made an investigation of Saturday's scuttling.

New crews recently replaced the skeleton organizations remaining on the German warships, it was learned today. These new crews, according to the British authorities, brought the orders from the German capital which resulted in the sinking of the vessels Saturday.

The British Grand fleet today rides at anchor amid the submerged bulk of the German fleet. A few funnels show above the water in some places.

"It was a fitting end for the craven fleet," one British officer remarked today.

Paris, June 23.—The British admiralty was openly charged with neglect in permitted the sinking of the German fleet off Scapa Flow, by French newspapers today.

The French papers recalled the fact that France had laid claim to the battle cruisers and light cruisers forming part of the interned German fleet, and declared that compensation is due France for their loss.

"Great Britain's responsibility is heavy," declared the Journal. "We cannot forget that the British wanted the fleet sunk. An unbelievable accumulation of mistakes, made the scuttling possible. Article 23 of the armistice did not preclude the presence of an Allied guard aboard these ships."

"The Allies doubtless will recognize that compensation is due to France," said the Petit Journal. "France must retain the submarines entrusted to her keeping and should receive no blame if she retains a number of other ships."

COX COMMENTS ON SCHOOL RELIEF BILLS

Columbus, June 23.—Declaring that it is his opinion that few school districts will have to take advantage of the law passed during the closing session of the legislature, permitting a two mill levy for school purposes, Governor Cox has issued a statement in which he expresses belief that relief may be had without going outside the Smith one-percent law limitations; under a bill also enacted last week which permits the borrowing of funds to meet accumulated and current deficiencies in operating expenses, in anticipation of new revenues to be created for the retiring of the bonds.

The governor hopes that a tax law will be enacted which will create the necessary revenue by 1921 and expresses his belief that such a law can be worked out, giving permanent relief.

BRITISH PRESS COMMENT ON THE SINKING OF SHIPS

London, June 23.—The act of the German sailors in scuttling their warships in Scapa Flow Saturday is declared by a majority of the British press to be a forerunner of what may be expected from the Germans after peace is signed. The newspapers generally blame the British authorities for not taking the proper precautions. British crews, it is declared, should have been put aboard each German vessel.

A Daily News dispatch from Kirkwall today said that the British first thought a mutiny was in progress Saturday when the Germans started scuttling their ships. Red flags were hoisted from some of the vessels. All of the German sailors were rounded up here under a close guard today, another dispatch reported. The Germans were defiant and apparently very happy over their feat.

Lord Beresford today characterized the sinking of the German fleet as typical of what could be expected.

"If we want to see that terms of peace are carried out we must use force to insure it," he declared.

One of the German officers, after sinking the fleet, came aboard the Victorious wearing his sword, said the Mail today. Another who commanded a division of the interned destroyers, said:

"We are not bolsheviks. Peace was signed today. We had our orders and carried them out."

The Mail says today that the Germans apparently have been ready for a month for their coup. A variety of articles was taken off the boats before sinking, including banjos and pet dogs.

"A dirty trick," said the Mail editorially today. "It was gross treachery and an act of war that automatically annuls the armistice. It shows that the Hun respects no sanctity of pledges or treaties. He is ready for any fresh perfidy."

"The loss of the German ships is a small price to pay for the dissipation of dangerous illusion and hesitations," declared the Post.

The Times declared: "It shows that the Huns cannot be trusted. Therefore as Wilson foresaw, they must be controlled."

MATERIALS CHIEF NEED OF BELGIUM

Brussels, June 23.—Cardinal Mercier, in granting a special audience at Malines to Frederick L. Collins, American publisher, authorized the publication of this statement apropos of President Wilson's visit to Belgium:

"America will be rendering an invaluable service to Belgium in the early fulfillment of President Wilson's promises of practical assistance in the way of raw materials, machinery and credit. In the little city of Malines we have 30,000 workers, most of whom involuntarily are idle because they have no material or machinery."

"Since the armistice was signed reconstruction in Belgium has been going forward at an astounding rate. During the war Belgium needed charity and received it."

"Now all Belgium requires is a chance to work. Of course, private charity will always be needed in Belgium, as in other countries, but the time has passed when Belgium as a country asks for charity. What Belgium needs most are three essentials mentioned by President Wilson, namely, raw materials, machinery and financial co-operation."

Count von Bernstorff.

Dr. Matthias Erzberger.

Count von Bernstorff, former German Ambassador to the United States, has been named Minister of Foreign Affairs in the new German Cabinet, and will probably go to Versailles to sign the peace treaty, according to an unofficial report from Berlin. Matthias Erzberger, head of the German Armistice Commission, will probably head the new German peace delegation. It is reported that Erzberger has sent a note to Premier Clemenceau, as president of the peace conference, asking whether the Allies will agree to immediate admission of Germany to the League of Nations.

Cleveland, O., June 23.—The congregation of the Euclid avenue Baptist church last night applauded for several minutes the assertion of Rev. W. W. Bustard in the course of his sermon that:

RESIGNATION OF EBERT EXPECTED

CLEMENCEAU AND LLOYD GEORGE NOTIFIED THAT GERMANS WILL SIGN TREATY

London, June 23.—It was officially announced this afternoon from Downing street the official residence of Premier Lloyd George that Germany has decided to sign the peace treaty. The Exchange telegraph announces that a German note has reached Paris and is understood to contain the German acceptance of the terms of the treaty. A dispatch from Paris states that Clemenceau has been notified that Germany has agreed to sign.

Paris, June 23.—Official notice from the new German government that Germany now accepts the peace treaty and is sending a new delegation to Versailles to sign, is expected to reach here within a few hours.

The final reply of the Allies to an eleventh-hour attempt by the new German cabinet to win further concession reached Weimar early today. In a pointed note of less than 150 words, the Allies declared they could accept no qualification or reservation and called upon the Germans to sign or accept the consequences.

Information reaching here from authoritative sources at Weimar is that the Bauer cabinet is determined to sign the treaty and that the last notes sent to the Allies, protesting against fixing responsibility for the war on Germany and against the punishment of the ex-kaiser, were framed in an effort to "save Germany's face."

By John Edwin Nevin.
Paris, June 23.—11:20 a. m.—The Big Four has just refused a request from the German government for a 48-hour extension of the ultimatum expiring tonight.

The new German request arrived shortly before 3 o'clock this morning. The allied leaders were summoned to Lloyd George's house and went into conference as soon as all had arrived.

Discussion of the request for delay lasted about one hour.

In anticipation of official word of Germany's decision to sign before the expiration of the Allied ultimatum tonight, arrangements were going forward at Versailles for the actual ceremony of signing. The German decision will be telegraphed here from Weimar and handed to the allies by the secretary of the German delegation, who remained at Versailles.

President Wilson and other Big Four leaders are hoping that a new German delegation can reach Versailles in time to sign tomorrow, but it appears more likely that signatures will be attached on Wednesday or Thursday.

Despite this feeling of absolute confidence that the Germans will sign, Marshal Foch's preparations for the advance in Germany did not relax today and American military headquarters was alive with the activity. The veterans First and Second divisions of General Pershing's forces are ready to begin the advance toward Cassel on a moment's notice.

The Germans alleged that they were unable to reach a final decision with respect to the peace treaty without further time. President Wilson, Premier Lloyd George and Premier Clemenceau found themselves in absolute unanimity in the decision to refuse the request.

It was authoritatively stated that the Allied reply was couched in the sharpest terms and again warned the Germans of the consequence if they fail to sign before the expiration of the ultimatum.

A report reached here today that the Germans might not send another peace delegation to Versailles but would instruct the secretary of the old delegation, who is now at Versailles to sign the treaty. In conference circles it was declared quite unlikely that the allies would permit any such procedure. It was said that they would adhere to the precedent established during the armistice negotiations, when they flatly refused to negotiate with any second raters. It is expected that another sharp note of warning will be sent to the German government if a new delegation is named and found not to be representative of the German people.

In the notes received from the German government last night, and to which the Allies immediately despatched negative replies, the German government "engages to fulfill the conditions of peace," but adds:

"It (the German republic) desires, however, in this solemn moment to express itself with unreserved clearness in order to meet in advance any accusation of untruthfulness that may now or later be made against Germany. The conditions imposed exceed the measure of that which Germany can in fact perform. The government of the German republic, therefore, feels itself bound to announce that it makes all reservations and declines all responsibility as regards the consequences which may be threatened against Germany, when, as is bound to happen, the impossibility of carrying out the conditions comes to light, even though German capacity to fulfill is stretched to the utmost."

The German government then follows with a statement refusing to recognize Germany's sole responsibility for the war and declining to recognize the right of the allies to impose burdens upon her on the score of responsibility. It further declares it impossible for a German "to reconcile it with his dignity and honor to accept and execute articles 227 to 230 by which Germany is required to give up to the Allied and Associated powers for trial individuals among the German people who are accused by the Allies and Associated powers for breach of international law for committing acts contrary to the customs of war."

The German government also protests against the taking away of her colonial possessions "and against the reasons given therefore, which permanently deny to Germany fitness for colonial activity."

The German government, the note adds, "believes itself to be entitled to address the following modest request to the Allied and Associated governments in the expectation that the Allies and Associated governments will consider the following declaration as an integral part of the treaty."

FEWER OHIO HOGS DIE OF CHOLERA IN 1918.

Columbus, O., June 23.—Figures announced by State Veterinarian Burnett show that Ohio lost fewer hogs through cholera last year than in 1917 or 1916, but the monetary loss, due to high price of hogs, exceeded that of any previous year.

The number of hogs lost last year was 118,881, valued at $3,246,850, compared with 120,623 animals and $1,471,006 in 1917, and 250,628 animals and $2,255,662 in 1916. The price last year was more than 100 per cent higher than three years ago. Ohio ranks sixth in the country in hog production. It is excelled by Iowa, Illinois, Nebraska, Missouri and Indiana in the order named.

Daily Thought.

Dreaming of a tomorrow, which to-morrow will be as distant then as to-day.—Tome Burgullos.

SOCIAL UNREST CAN NOT BE OVER COME BY PRAYER

Columbus, June 23.—Special trains from Kansas City, Chicago Minneapolis and Fort Wayne are expected today or tomorrow carrying Methodists from that part of the country who will attend the Methodist centenary now in full swing in Columbus. Officials of the centenary say the attendance this week promises to exceed the fondest expectations. A special train from Cleveland carrying 500 district superintendents will arrive today. Automobile caravans are arriving from North, South, East and West.

Columbus, O., June 23.—Declaring that the present social unrest cannot be met by prayer or preaching, Governor Henry J. Allen spoke to a crowd of 5,000 people at the Coliseum, at the Kansas day celebration at the Methodist centenary. "We must create anxiety for justice so that all men will be fair to the men they employ," said the Kansan.

Governor Allen said he was not worried over bolshevism in America. "There are few real bolsheviks in this country," he said. "The majority of them are I. W. W.'s and red socialists, masquerading as bolsheviks. The way to meet this condition is not by prayer. Any one who panders with that element is either a coward or does not know the dangers of what he is handling."

"Bolshevism in other countries is merely the birth pain of people traveling from autocracy to free government. Every nation has walked that pathway, always more or less bloody." In an interview given out here, Governor Allen declared in favor of a peace now and a League of Nations afterward. He says the western people are against the covenant. He asserted also that the people of Kansas have lost faith in the leadership of President Wilson and scored the army and West Point, declaring that officers should be from the men who have seen service in the ranks.

MRS. N. H. FAIRBANKS HURT IN ACCIDENT

Mrs. H. N. Fairbanks, of Springfield, mother of Mrs. H. C. Messenger, was injured when the Fairbanks automobile collided with a car driven by Harry Allen, at Forest and Neal avenues in Dayton, Sunday afternoon. Allen was cut and bruised. Both cars were badly damaged.

After receiving a doctor's attention in Dayton, Mrs. Fairbanks was able to be taken to her home in Springfield, where her son-in-law Dr. Messenger found that the extent of her injuries were severe bruises about the body. Mr. and Mrs. Fairbanks and their daughter, Miss Marceline, who was driving, were in the Fairbanks car, which struck the other machine squarely. Mr. Fairbanks assumed blame for the accident.

OPPORTUNITY.

You say there's no chance for you,
son?
Why, the best books haven't been written,
The best face hasn't been run;
The best song hasn't been made yet,
The best song hasn't been sung;
The best tune hasn't been played yet.
Cheer up! for the world is young.

No chance? Why, the world is just eager
For the things you ought to create.
It's store of true wealth still is meager.

It's needs are incessant and great;
It yearns for more power and beauty.
More laughter, love and romance.
More loyalty, labor and duty.

No chance? Why, there's nothing but chance.

The best verse hasn't been rhymed yet,
The best house hasn't been planned,
The highest peak hasn't been climbed yet,
The mightiest rivers aren't spanned;
Don't fret and worry, fainthearted,
The chances have just begun.
The best job hasn't been started,
The best work hasn't been done.

NEW HOME RULE PARTY FORMED IN IRELAND.

Sir Horace Plunkett

An influential organization under the name of "the Irish Dominion League," is being formed in Ireland, according to a report from Dublin. It is composed of men who believe that an Irish republic is unattainable and undesirable, but think that a prompt measure of home rule on the fullest colonial lines is urgently necessary. Sir Horace Plunkett, chairman of the Irish Convention, is one of the many influential men who are promoting the league.

RECORD PEACE TIME EXPANSION PREDICTED

Washington, June 23.—Prediction that the fiscal year beginning July 1 will witness a record peace-time expansion in trade between the United States and Latin American countries adding substantially to the $1,000,000,000 gain made during the four years of war, as shown in last year's total of $1,700,000,000 was made in a statement issued by John Barrett, director general of the Pan-American union. Estimating that the growth in exports from the United States to the Latin American republics had increased 157 per cent during the war, imports from the countries 119 per cent, Director General Barrett based his prediction that this expansion would be still further increased by a record peace-time growth during the next fiscal year chiefly on the assurance of ample shipping and greatly improved banking and credit facilities to be provided.

With these two big factors taken care of, said Mr. Barrett, American business men "can proceed with confidence."

DRIVERLESS TEAM IS WISE TO "GO" AND "STOP."

Indianapolis, Ind., June 23.—A team of horses owned by an Indianapolis wholesale grocery company decided to move without their driver. The horses drawing a dray started slowly. They were just behind the white line at Meridian and Maryland streets when the traffic man turned the semaphore.

The "stop" sign faced the horses, and they stopped. In a few minutes the traffic man turned the semaphore and the "go" sign faced the horses. They went. As the team stopped at the "stop" sign and stared at the "go" sign, the traffic man failed to notice they were driverless. The horses slowly walked to the next corner and again the "stop" sign was up. The horses stopped. And this is the way the driver caught them.

MISS MARY ORR BECOMES BRIDE OF DR. ROBERT DEAN

Miss Mary Orr, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Orr of Kansas City, Mo., became the bride of Dr. Robert Dean, son of Mr. and Mrs. S. S. Dean of the Jamestown pike, Saturday evening at 7 o'clock, the ceremony taking place at the Orr home in the presence of a small gathering composed of members of the bride's family and other relatives.

Dr. Dean and his bride are expected to arrive here Monday evening, and they will be guests at the home of the bridegroom's parents. News of their marriage did not become known until Monday and it occasioned surprise among friends of the bridal pair, who did not know that they had set their wedding day.

Dr. Dean graduated from Western Reserve University at Cleveland, June 14, with the degree of M. D., and he will take his internship at the Philadelphia General Hospital, where he will spend sixteen months. He and his bride will go to Philadelphia, July 1.

It was while Dr. Dean and his bride were both attending school at Miami University at Oxford, O., that the friendship began which terminated in their marriage. Dr. Dean graduated from Miami in 1914 and took up his medical course at Western Reserve. After her graduation, Mrs. Dean was a member of the faculty of the O. S. and S. O. Home Schools, teaching art. She resigned a year ago and has since been at her home in Kansas City.

PASSING OF THE SARDINE CHARGED TO PROHIBITION

Bangor, Maine, June 23.—Mark another wreck up to prohibition! This time it's the lowly and humble sardine, the poor man's delight, the desired of the thirst-quenchers.

Maine's sardine industry is threatened. The sardine factories are not opening up this season because of prohibition. In the big cities, where the cheering cup was having its day, the bar rooms supplied their customers with a lunch to go with beer, wine or gin, and nothing went so well with any of the appetizers as the festive sardine.

But prohibition came and the bar rooms went, or are on their way. No sardines are wanted.

WELL KNOWN MAN
CALLED TO REST

John A. Swope, prominent and life long resident of Greene county, passed away at the home of his grandson, M. J. Middleton, eight miles out on the Wilmington pike near Middleton's Corners, where he had been making his home, at 3:20 o'clock Sunday afternoon. He had been ill two weeks and death was due to pneumonia and a complication of diseases. Mr. Swope was born May 7, 1846, and was thus 73 years of age. He had passed practically his entire life in this county, near the place where he died. His wife preceded him in death but he is survived by three children, Mrs. Joseph Mussetter, of Wilmington, Mrs. Elton Smith, of Jamestown and Newton Swope, of Xenia. Eight grandchildren and seven great grandchildren survive, and M. J. Middleton, with whom he made his home is a grandchild.

The funeral services will be held Tuesday. Friends will meet at the home at 10 o'clock a. m. and will go from there to the M. E. church at Lamberton where services will be held. Burial will be made at Eleazar.

EXPECT LARGE CROP OF SWEET CORN FOR CANNERY

One of the largest crops of sweet corn in Fayette county is being raised by Jones and McMurray on the Persinger farm, near Washington C. H. The crop, which is being raised for the Fayette Canning Company, of Washington C. H., embraces a tract of 225 acres.

Another interesting fact is that the two men are comparing the cost of upkeep of a tractor and two teams of mules, which is all the motive power being used for both planting and cultivating.

Premier Orlando

The Italian Government, headed by Vittorio E. Orlando, Prime Minister has tendered its resignation to King Victor Emmanuel, following an adverse vote against it in the Italian Chamber of Deputies, according to a dispatch from Rome. The vote against the Government was 259 to 70. Premier Orlando had demanded that the Chamber meet in secret sessions to hear explanations regarding the foreign policy and made it a question of confidence in the Government. The resignation of the Orlando Government might have an embarrassing effect on the Peace Conference, as Premier Orlando has been a member of the Council of Four with Premiers Lloyd George and Clemenceau and President Wilson.

Louis Bannison, apt portrayer of Western roles, will appear at the Bijou Theater Tuesday matinee and night in his latest release "The Road Called Straight."

The picture is a release of the Betzwood Film Company and offers a story thrilling in its Western touch and charming in its gentle breath of romance. The role is an exceedingly popular one for Bannison, who has gained a reputation as a most careful portrayer of the wild and woolly type.

ORPHUM.

Pretty little Louise Huff has not appeared on a local screen and it is greatly due to this reason that local fans are showing much interest in her coming to the Orphum Theater Tuesday in her latest World-Picture release "Crook of Dreams."

As the title indicates the story is complicated of plot and presents an unusual and original construction. Miss Huff is supported well. Frank Mayo being the leading man while Virginia Hammond, Florence Billings, Kempton Green, Josephine Williams, Edward Elkas and Kate Lester have important roles.

JAPAN HAS JUST "GRAB-BED" KOREA, AND TEN MILLION PEOPLE.

The "little Japs" are not much in stature, but what there is of them is a condensed battery of aggressiveness, a regular never give-up, but "get there."

Did you notice in the news from Congress, last week, that Senator James D. Phelan of California, is protesting against the way the Japs are acquiring land in that state. It seems that the immigration laws permit them to come into this country at the rate of three to five per cent of those already here. Senator Phelan argued that he had no sympathy with the "per centage" plan, and wants the immigration law changed to a greater degree of exclusiveness of the Japs. He says their national characteristic, as displayed here, is to become land owners, and that this operates to the under valuation of all surrounding country. They are aggressive little fellows, and not always by fair means, as their present "gobbling" of Korea, a subject just thrust upon the public, well illustrates.

If you have a good large map of Asia, and look on the southwest coast of Manchuria, a little below the city of Vladivostok, and partly bordering on China, you will see a promontory projecting out, just as Florida does from our country and in shape very much like Florida. This is Korea.

At the time of the Russian-Japanese war the Japanese claimed they were fighting Russia because she was preparing to rob China of Manchuria and Korea. Now they themselves have out-Russiaed Russia, especially as regards Korea. A witty chinaman put it this way: It is much as if I should knock a man down, saying, "That man was about to take your watch," and then take the watch myself.

On the east of this promontory of Korea is the Japan sea, on the west the Yellow sea, and bordering the latter the Japanese islands or nation. The length of the country is about 600 miles and the population about ten millions. The natives are of a mongrel nature, a mixture between Chinese and Japanese.

Japan's aggressiveness towards China has long been a public scandal. With national prowess, which China lacks, she has domineered over the latter, and has taken rough-handed about everything she wanted. The late Bishop Bashford, of the Methodist church, for a quarter century a missionary in China, has given the world in his great book on China, his appeal to Japan to keep hands off China.

But Korea, being so close and so much of a sugar-plum, Japan has just simply taken it within the last few years, with practically no world power to say it nay. There are many christian missionaries in Korea but they are having a hard time. Naturally they sympathize with the efforts of the native Koreans to be let alone, and with the movement on the part of natives to have the Peace Conference at Paris recognize their independence from Japan. Many of the missionaries have been mistreated and all are in a state of excitement over the torn-up condition of the country on account of the effort to get out from the clutches of Japan.

Some of their complaints are along the lines following: (First) Japan is said to be insufferably autocratic—would put the czar to shame. No right of appeal whatever on any point from the word of the governor. (Second) It is said to be a rule of brute force, not one ounce of love or sympathy shown to win the goodwill of the people, but they are called "natives" and looked upon as little better than serfs or slaves. They cannot even discuss the simplest matters of tax or government without being summarily arrested for treason. (Third) They are being "denationalized" by the Japanese police, which forbids their own history, language, etc., being taught in schools, all requiring the Japanese language as medium. They cannot even study in the same public school with the Japanese, no matter how well qualified.

(Fourth) Their rented lands are taken away and given to Japanese settlers; hence such exodus of thousands to Manchuria, etc. (Fifth) Absolutely denied the privilege of travel abroad or study in foreign countries. These are some of the complaints voiced by them.

BUY NOW.

For a text, we take the liberty of using an extract from the advertisement of the Greene County Lumber Company in this paper, as follows:

"Lumber bought before the war cost you more than twice as much in farm products than it does today. Lumber has increased little in price. Farm products much. Now is the time to build. Thirty-six hogs in 1914 would buy material for a barn 34x48 feet. Now the same hogs will provide material for the same barn and yet leave a cash balance of $500. These relative values of course will apply to any other kind of construction and this illustration leads to but one logical conclusion which is that the farmer can better now afford to build than ever in history."

"Buy now!" urges the Council of National Defense.

It is excellent advice, designed to prevent a disastrous slump in business and get more easily and quickly through the uneasy reconstruction period and into the boom times, which almost everybody agrees lie ahead.

Prices will come down, to be sure, all along the line, if everybody holds off buying long enough. But to stop buying as a deliberate policy for the sake of lowering prices is suicidal. Both experience and economic teaching show the fallacy of it. The trouble is that by the time price levels have been lowered markedly by this drastic process, people no longer have the money to buy things even at the reduced prices.

Except in special and exceptional cases, there is nothing to be gained by waiting, and much to lose. Buying now will stimulate business and industry. It will keep men and women working. It will hold up wages and salaries and dividends.

If it holds prices at what seems an abnormally high level, that is of minor importance—as long as everybody is making money. There was little real complaint about high prices the last couple of years because people had the money to pay the prices, and after paying them had more left over than usual, as present bank deposits and Liberty Bond holdings attest. Buy Now.

THE PROMOTER'S WIFE

BY JANE PHELPS.

Neil Has a Month's Vacation.

CHAPTER CXXI.

The armistice had been signed. The war was over. How Neil and other men who had worked as he had lived through it I never shall understand. It was not only the soldier in the trenches who took his life in his hand ready to give it willingly if necessary. But men at home, men who carried the financial burden of the war, men who supplied the wherewithal to fight, and who could not for a moment sleep at the post.

Frederick insisted that Neil take a rest, but first he called him into his private office.

"How much have you saved, Forbes?" Neil told him. He was dumbfounded. "How ever did you do it?" he asked.

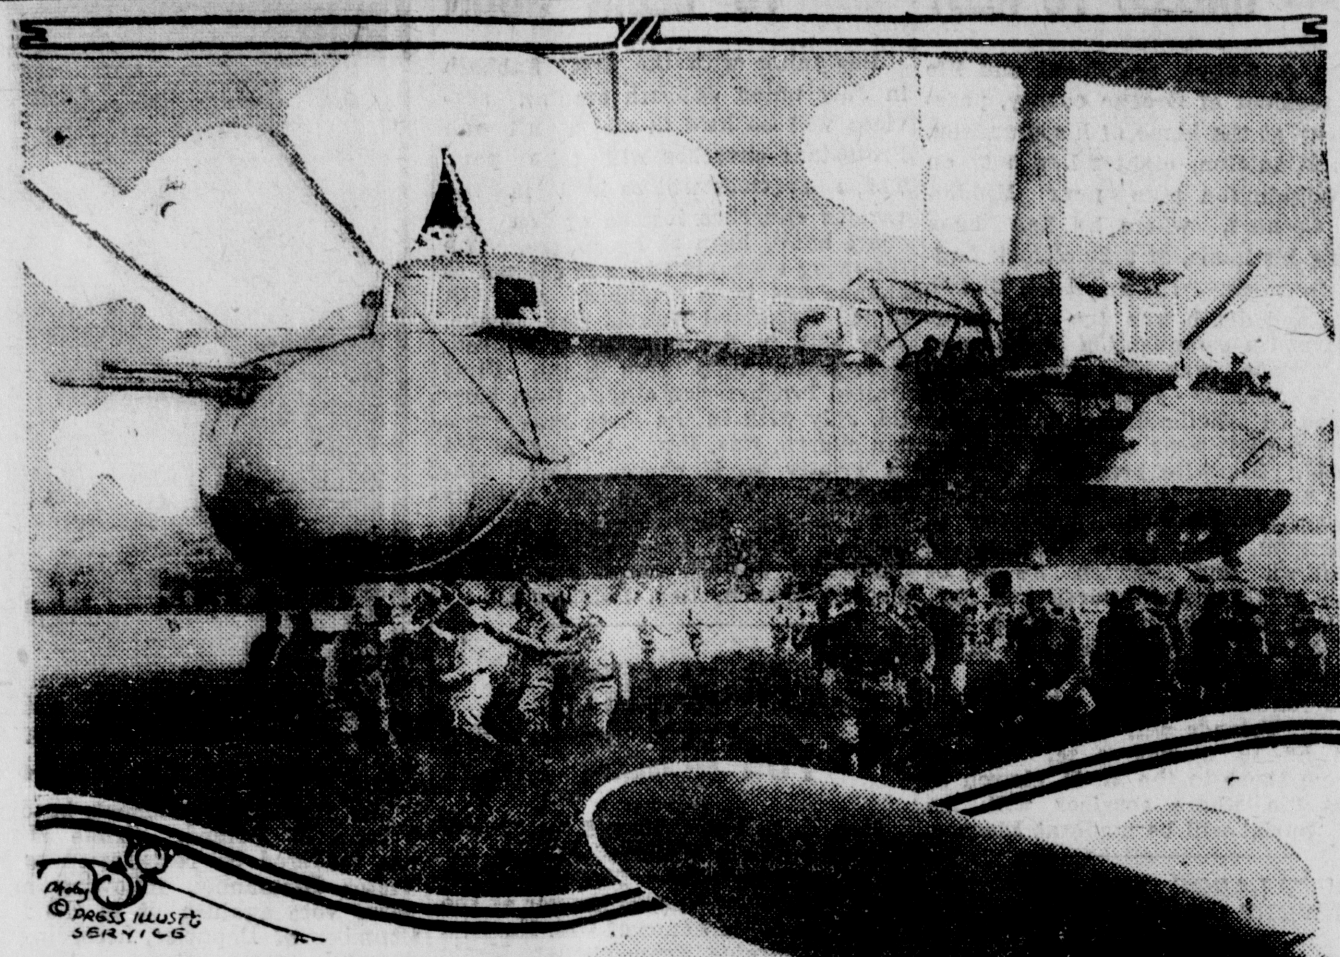

"We have lived very simply. Barbara has done all she could to help. Our entire expenses have been covered by one hundred dollars a month—thanks to her—ever since we left New York. The rest is in bank until I have enough to clear up my indebtedness to Scott and others."

Frederick said nothing more just then and went on his way, but insisted upon Neil taking a month's vacation. He advised Maine or Canada, some entire change. Neil said nothing, but came to me with his plan which was to simply stay at home and get acquainted with his family.

"I of course get full salary, so it will mean saving if I remain here. Then I am so tired I long just for you and the quiet of home."

I agreed with him that it would be

U.S. PLANNED TO USE DIRIGIBLES WITH HUGE CANNON AGAINST FOE

Views, just released for publication, of giant dirigible with 75m. guns. Lower picture shows how guns are mounted and comparative size of guns to a man.

Pictures just released show another war machine that the Germans would have had to battle had the war lasted many months longer. Many of these giant dirigibles were ordered for the A. E. F. from a French firm. They were to be used over land to aid the land forces and over sea to protect shipping. The 75m. guns on board are so constructed that they can be trained on objects almost directly below the air-dreadnaught.

for the best. I was as anxious as he to get our debts paid. More perhaps as I hoped that were he free his buoyant spirits and happiness would return. He was old far beyond his years, his boyishness had all disappeared. He had been tried, had been burnt in the fires and even though he never again would be found wanting, the effect had been terrible upon him.

Robert was delighted. Many precious hours did he and his father spend together, taking long walks, or sitting on the porch talking of what Robert should be when he grew up. Once I overheard his father tell him: "Never think money is everything, my boy. It is all right to plan to be a good business man, to earn and have your share of the good things of life. But never do it at the expense of another. Selfishness, indifference to others bring sorrow in its train always—in some way I want my son to be respected, honored, because he is honorable." Tears filled my eyes as I heard, not so much because of the words, as the sadness of the tone.

"I want to be like you father," had been the boy's answer.

"I pray you may never be like me, I pray you may be a far better man than ever I have been. Some day when you are older I shall tell you a story. When you are old enough to understand."

I crept quietly away. Was Neil never to be at peace? Was he always to carry with him the knowledge that he had nearly shared the common fate of criminals because he had done wrong?

Father and mother visited us during Neil's vacation. They were delighted with our little home, and I knew happier than when they visited us in town. They knew very little of what had happened, simply that Neil had lost most of his money, and was starting over again. Neil frankly told of his work with Frederick, of what he hoped to do now that the war was over.

"A simple life is the best," father said, as we all sat in the little living room after dinner. "I am sure you will be happier if you do not try for too great riches. They take wings and fly away as you have seen. Love, a few friends, enough to live comfortably, what more does anyone need?"

It was so like dear father to talk like that. He never preached, never questioned. But when he expressed himself it was always in language that disclosed the sweetness of his nature. His simple theory of life.

We had made a few friends in our new home. Nice intelligent people about our own age. We played bridge with them occasionally and once in a while one or the other would give a little dinner. I cultivated them more now than I had before. Neil would be better for a little society, altho he grumblingly declared he wanted none of it. Yet I noticed that when he and the men talked—men who were trying to make headway in business—that he brightened up considerably, and that he invariably talked so they were interested.

"A few friends," father had said. I knew he was right. I must not allow Neil to draw completely away from human companionship. Tomorrow—Neil Pays the Last of His Obligations.

Matter All Settled.

My neighbor's son came into the house the other day, leading a child by the hand. We looked our astonishment, when we saw the little quaint stranger, and he immediately made this announcement: "I adopted her; she was all alone and crying, so I 'adopted her and she can have all my toys, 'cepting my bicycle."—Chicago Tribune.

MRS. ANDREW FAUL DIES SUDDENLY OF HEART FAILURE

Stricken by heart trouble after retiring Sunday night, Mrs. Andrew Faul of the Springfield pike, died five minutes later, at 10 o'clock. A physician who had been summoned reached the house just as she passed away. Although she had been subject to attacks of heart trouble for several years, Mrs. Faul was feeling well prior to the fatal attack, which did not appear to be more severe than others through which she had passed safely.

Mrs. Faul's maiden name was Mary Elizabeth Moore. She was born near Wilmington in Clinton county, Aug. 7, 1854, and her parents dying when she was young she was reared by her grandfather. Her marriage to Mr. Faul occurred May 1, 1875. After their marriage they lived in Clermont county until 1886 when they came to Xenia, where until 1905 Mr. Faul, occurred, May 4, 1875. After Detroit street. Mr. Faul at that time took up farming, and the family moved to their Springfield pike farm, where they are now living.

Surviving Mrs. Faul with her husband are five children: Charles, of Los Angeles; Ursley, of Santiago, Cuba; Ed. at home; Mrs. C. A. Riley of this city, and Beatrice, at home. An uncle, Dr. Moore of Morrowtown is her only living relative on her parents' side.

Funeral services will be held at the home at 1:30 Wednesday. In accordance with Mrs. Faul's often expressed wish, the family requests that friends send no floral tributes.

MISS RUTH BARNES ENTERTAINS IN HONOR OF SISTER

Miss Ruth Barnes entertained a company of young women at her home on High street, Saturday afternoon, honoring her sister, Opal, whose marriage to S. H. Stagers of Tampico, Mexico, will be an event of June 28.

The guests showered the bride-elect with their favorite recipes and wrote her letters of advice which are to be opened upon her arrival in Mexico.

It was a source of great pleasure to the guests to be able to renew their acquaintance with Mr. Stagers, who has not spent much time in this community since his graduation from Antioch five years ago.

The hostess served delicious refreshments of ice-cream and cake and punch to her guests.

Peanut Oil.

The peanut oil, which is used as a substitute for other nut oils, is receiving special attention from growers who find this the most profitable feature of the industry. About 40,000,000 bushels a year are used in the production of peanut oil, a bushel weighing 80 pounds, usually yielding about a gallon.

"BEEZER" WEAVER PROVES STAR IN RESERVE GAME

With a crippled line-up and an off-day and the breaks of the game against them, coupled with the fact that the visitors represented easily the strongest team the locals have faced this season, combined to bring defeat to the Xenia Reserves at the hands of Middletown at Reserve Park Sunday afternoon, the score being 9-2.

When Big Bill Kuntz, of Springfield, failed to show up at the local grounds without letting Manager Foley know he would not pitch, and when Fink, of Mechanicsburg, who wanted a try-out in the box failed to live up to his own qualifications, "Bezer" Weaver, steady little third baseman of the locals was the "hero in the breach" who served them up during the balance of the contest. Weaver permitted but seven hits, and if he could have kept his curve ball working with a little more control, he would have whiffed them all. Jesse has a huge curve that is hard to control and when he had to throw a straight one the visitors clouted the leather out of the lot. At that only seven blows were garnered off the third baseman. Weaver also annexed the first home run made by the Reserves this season.

Stiles was shifted to short to fill the breach made by Leahy's absence, this had been unable to form. Burdette Parley, of Port William, played the Keystone sack and Robinette took Fuller's place in the outfield. After Weaver went in the box Fink was placed in right field and Cline took third, where he performed like a madman, and made a regular "dead-man's corner" around the difficult sack. The team was unbalanced by the changes however, and was generally off color.

The visitors scored three in the first when Fink walked the first man up, who stole second and took third on Randall's wild throw, scoring when Marts was safe on Fink's off-throw. Woods was safe on a fielder's choice to get Marts and Cope rapped a home run. In the second Lockaff and Adams each doubled. Davis was safe when Bath dropped Stiles' throw. Marts sacrificed and Woods walked, three scoring during the melee. In the local fourth, Weaver pulled the grand sensation when he knocked the first home run made by a Reserve this season, clouting the pill over the left fielder's head for the full circuit.

In the fifth, Woods repeated the performance for the visitors, hammering the ball to left for four bags. In the sixth Davis singled, stole second and went to third when Earley muffed the throw. He scored when Marts singled. In the local sixth Bath singled and so did Robinette, Cline hit into a double play, Marts unassisted to Cope. Randall singled scoring. Bath. In the seventh the visitors annexed another when Dutch was safe on Stiles' wild throw, advanced on Cope's out and scored on Peake's single. The score:

1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 R H E
Reserves 0 0 0 1 0 1 0 0 0 2 5 7
Middletown 3 3 0 0 1 1 1 0 6 9 8 3
The lineup: Reserves—Weller cf, Stiles ss, Earley 1b, Weaver 3b-n, Bath 1b, Robinette 2b, Cline rf-3b, Randall c, Fink p-rf. Middletown—Davis 3b, Marts 2b, Woods ss, Cope 1b, Peake rf, Sonders rf, Lockaffer c, Adams p, Umpire—Robinson.

Bird of Peculiar Name.
All the way from Australia comes the brown kingfisher, or the so-called laughing jackass. He is called that because of the song he sings. The only reason it is called a song is because he is a bird, and all birds are supposed to have songs; but whatever it is that is called a song is something that sounds like a hee-hawing mule. In his native haunts this peculiar bird subsists largely on live fish, but in captivity, unless small fresh fish are easily obtainable, he takes readily to a meat diet. If a fish, mouse or sparrow is given to him he will take it in his strong bill and hammer it continuously against his perch or the wire until it is almost a pulp. This practice aids digestion.

GOING DOWN HILL OF ILL HEALTH VERY RAPIDLY

But Her Downward Progress
Was Stopped By a Single Bottle of Nerv-Worth.

This remarkable statement was made a short time ago to the Nerv-Worth druggist at Uniontown, Pa.

Wade H. Guyton—For several years I have been in a very nervous condition. I did not have the nerve force to properly digest my food and it would ferment and gas formed in my stomach and so badly interfered with my heart-action that it would flutter and intermit. Was going down fast and losing strength and weight. Was very uneasy about my condition and could not sleep.

I purchased one bottle of Nerv-Worth from you and after using it as directed I am a changed woman. All the troubles mentioned have disappeared and am getting strength and weight and am happy to be able to make this statement. Nerv-Worth certainly is a wonderful medicine.

MRS. J. B. BOYCE.

SIGNOR NITTI ASKED TO FORM NEW CABINET; TITTONI TO REPLACE SONNINO.

Francesco Nitti.

Tommaso Tittoni.

King Victor Emmanuel has given Francesco Nitti, former Minister of the Treasury, unofficial mandate to form a Cabinet to succeed that of Premier Orlando, according to a dispatch from Rome. Former Premier Tittoni will be Foreign Minister, replacing Baron Sonnino. The selection of Francesco S. Nitti as Premier of Italy will undoubtedly have the effect of strengthening the Italian position in the diplomatic world. Nitti resigned his portfolio as Minister of the Treasury in the Orlando Cabinet as a result of a disagreement over Orlando's attitude toward the Peace Conference, particularly with regard to the issue of Fiume. Nitti took the ground that for Italy to insist upon getting Fiume, thus depriving the Jugo-Slavs, the Czechs, the Hungarians and the Serbians of access to the sea, would have the result of converting them all into enemies.

GRANGE NOTES

Remember the big Grange picnic at Kilkare Park, Thursday, July 4. Two great speakers, Taber and Ketcham. Don't forget the Juvenile Grange picnic at Kelly farm, Yellow Springs, July 19th.

Caesarscreek Grange conferred the third and fourth degrees on a class of 21 on last Tuesday evening. A large crowd was present, including a number of visitors from other Granges. This Grange has a splendid orchestra which played several selections while refreshments were served.

Beaver Grange took in a class of 4 last Thursday evening. The Xenia degree team conferred the degrees and they brought a number of other members from Xenia Grange with them. Several visitors were also present from Caesarscreek and Fairfield Valley Granges.

Extensive plans are being made for the Juvenile Grange picnic Saturday, July 19th, at the E. S. Kelly farm, one mile north of Yellow Springs. In the afternoon the exercises will be held in the Yellow Springs opera house. There are four Juvenile Granges in the county, Fairfield Valley, Yellow Springs, Xenia and Caesarscreek. Each Grange will furnish a fifteen minute program and the Juvenile degree work will also be given.

Egyptian Pyramids.
It took 123,000,045 slaves, working 14 hours a day for three centuries to complete the pyramids of Egypt, and the mummies exported from them have not brought, all told, $1,000,000. —New York Sun.

SOCIETY LEADER GOING TO FRANCE TO SIGN HER DIVORCE DECREE.

Mrs. Philip M. Lydig.

Mrs. Philip M. Lydig, of New York, well known society leader, will leave shortly for France on the steamer Espagne. While in Paris, Mrs. Lydig will sign her final decree of divorce from Major Philip M. Lydig, U. S. A. from whom she has been separated for several years. The divorce proceedings were instituted in 1914, but were not pressed until the end of the war. In 1895, when only sixteen years old, Mrs. Lydig married W. E. D. Stokes, from whom she was subsequently divorced. Although the divorce papers awarded the custody of W. E. D. Stokes, Jr., to Mrs. Lydig, she relinquished the son to his father shortly after her marriage to Major Lydig.

SHORTHORN BREEDERS FORMED ORGANIZATION

The Greene County Shorthorn Association. This is the name of a new livestock organization which was formed at a meeting held in the court house assembly room Saturday.

County Agent Ford S. Prince, at whose suggestion the meeting for the purpose of organizing shorthorn breeders was called, presided. The following officers for the association were elected.

President R. D. Williamson, vice-president, L. E. Oldham; secretary, A. E. Shoup; treasurer, Albert Ankeney. The executive committee consists of Charles Mendenhall, Wayne Oglesbee, and William Hyslop of Clark county. This committee will hold a meeting next Saturday for the purpose of deciding whether or not the organization should hold a sale of live stock next fall.

The State Shorthorn association is eager to have a like organization in every county or group of counties in the state. It is possible that the Greene county association may later include several surrounding counties in which no organization exists.

Greene county is the leading livestock county in Ohio, and one of the leaders in the United States, and organization of its stockmen is an important feature. Twenty-five shorthorn breeders were present at Saturday's meeting and will become charter members of the organization.

About twenty members were secured for the organization on Saturday and every shorthorn breeder in Greene county is invited to become a member of this association. The secretary will be glad to explain the association to any one interested.

This is the second breeders organization formed in Greene county this year. The Poland China men having organized some months ago.

Although this association is called the Greene County Shorthorn Breeders association the membership will be open to men in surrounding counties who are interested.

YOU NEED NOT SUFFER FROM CATARRH

But You Must Drive It Out of Your Blood.

Catarrh is annoying enough when it chokes up your nostrils and air passages, causing difficult breathing and other discomforts. Real danger comes when it reaches down into your lungs.

This is why you should at once realize the importance of the proper treatment, and lose no time experimenting with worthless remedies which touch only the surface.

HEADACHE

Caused by Acid-Stomach

Yes, indeed, more often than you think. Because ACID-STOMACH, starting with indigestion, heartburn, belching, food-repeating, bloating and gas, if not checked, will eventually affect every vital organ of the body. Severe, blinding, splitting headaches are, therefore, of frequent occurrence as a result of this set condition.

Take EATONIC. It quickly banishes acid-stomach with its sour bloating, pain and gas. It aids digestion—helps the stomach get full strength from every mouthful of food you eat. Millions of people are miserable, weak, sick and ailing because of ACID-STOMACH. Poisons, created by partly digested food charged with acid, are absorbed into the blood and distributed throughout the entire system. This often causes rheumatism, blood-poison, cirrhosis of the liver, heart trouble, ulcers and even cancer of the stomach. It robs its victims of their health, undermines the strength of the most vigorous.

If you want to get back your physical and mental strength—be full of vim and vigor—enjoy life and be happy, you must get rid of your acid-stomach.

In EATONIC you will find the very help you need and it's guaranteed. So get a big box from your druggist today. If it fails to please you, return it and he will refund your money.

SEVERAL PRETTY AFFAIRS FOR GUEST

Miss Jane Ferguson of Washington, Penn., who is visiting Miss Elizabeth Galloway, has been the guest of honor at several very delightful affairs.

Friday afternoon, Miss Eleanor Routzong gave a lawn party at her lovely home on the Fairfield pike, which was enjoyed by 15 girls. Cooling refreshments were served, and the girls had a merry time.

Miss Martha Bryson entertained at dinner for Miss Ferguson's pleasure, Friday night, at her home on the Springfield pike, at which there were covers for 12.

Last Monday night a dinner was given in Miss Ferguson's honor by Dr. and Mrs. Jesse Johnson.

Several other affairs are planned to be given during the time this popular former Xenia girl is here.

To Improve Paint Work.—To put a varnish-like gloss on doors, get half a pound of glue, put it into a saucepan with about a quart of water, and boil till dissolved. When the doors are washed, take a clean cloth, dip it in the size, and rub all one way, being sure to go over the door to insure a smooth surface.

Protect the Products of Farm, Garden and Orchard

In order to have good fruit, flowers, vegetables and farm products, a constant warfare must be waged against insects and other destructive agents.

However, there is not much need of going after them unless you are armed with the most effective destroyers.

We can supply just what is needed for any special purpose.

Besides Paris Green, London Purple and other well-known destroyers there are a variety of things not so commonly known and used.

For instance—Arsenate of Lead is often used in place of Paris Green. Rain does not wash it off the vines and leaves.

Bordeaux Mixture is also widely used for spraying purposes.

Rose Nicotine is another thing you should keep in mind if you wish to raise roses.

W. CLIFFORD LONG AT POINT OF DEATH

News that W. Clifford Long, is lying at the point of death from diabetes and complications at his home in Washington, D. C., has been received with much regret by the many loyal friends of this popular former Xenian. Mr. Long's condition became serious about six months ago, at which time he sold out his automobile business in the capital owing to his state of health. He has been one of the best known business men in Washington, and was also prominent as a lodge man.

Need for Both Law and Sword.
In all government there must of necessity be both the law and the sword; laws without arms would give us not liberty but licentiousness, and arms without laws would produce not subjection but slavery.—Colton.
